How to vote with your phone

1 Point your camera at the QR code on the screen

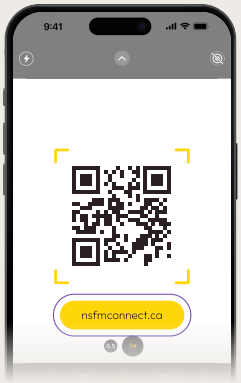

Open your phone's Camera app and aim it at the QR code, so the whole code fits on your screen. There's no need to take a photo.

2 Tap the link that pops up

A small box with a web address appears under the code (yellow on iPhones). Tap it, and the vote opens in your web browser.

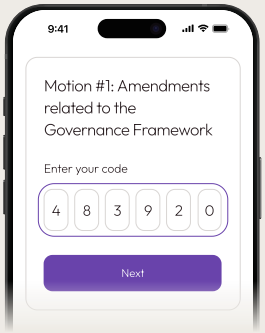

> If nothing appears on an Android phone, tap the Google Lens button in the camera and point it at the code.

3 Type the code from your card

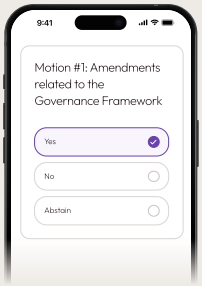

The first time you vote at a meeting, the page asks for your code. Type the 6 digits printed on your card, then tap Next.

> You only type it once. The meeting's other motions open straight to the question.

4 Vote

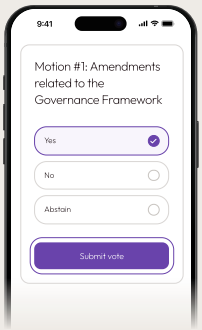

The motion is at the top of the page. Tap Yes, No, or Abstain. A check mark shows your choice; tap another to switch.

5 Submit vote

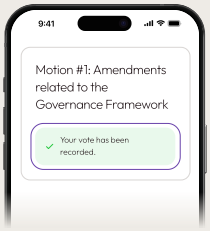

The “Submit vote” button is below your answer; scroll down if you don't see it.

> Submitting is final: a vote can't be changed afterwards.

6 After you vote

Your vote is counted when you see a green check mark and “Your vote has been recorded.”

> Each motion has its own QR code. When the chair calls the next vote, scan the new one.

If something goes wrong

Not sure your vote went through?

Scan the same QR code again on the same phone. If your vote counted, it will say “Your vote has been recorded.”

Still having problems, or have questions about the voting process?

Raise your hand and a staff member will come over.
